

out are friendly in every way. William Mc-Callum called on me here to see if I did not want to put up some money to help to alleviate the work on the road. It prompted me to give him my answer to-day, and I suppose he will come to me later. With the work on Third Avenue, we have nothing to do. You will have to see my brother about that.

"I consider that the situation of the strikers is very bad. They are getting less than they stay out on them are losing just so much money, which they cannot by any possibility regain. I am afraid that they have been lured on by false promises, and that they are not reasonable and still a director. "They are unreasonable. The more you give them the more they want. Then, even if it were possible to settle with them, that would not be in our case as a leverage against the other companies they are fighting."

We were the first company to give in to their demands last year, and have sought to avoid a conflict with them. It's too much like hitting a man in the back when we're ahead.

The organized stone-workers have made a compact with the United Garment Workers to push each other's union labels.

The members of the Pressers' Branch have withdrawn from the United Garment Workers and are independent again.

Messrs. Haug and Roehrs have been elected members of the Executive Committee of United Machine Works Union No. 38.

Branch of the Upholsterers' Union has somewhat given up the fight, and five non-union men from several shops where the cabinet-makers are at strike.

The shop of Rosses & Co. has been unjoined by the Amalgamated Brass Workers' Union. The only non-union shop in this city now is that of Simon & Sturin.

The miners of Great Britain have a bill before Parliament prohibiting the employment of men under 14 years of age and women under 16 years of age in all mines of the country.

At a recent debate among pupils of the Brooklyn Boys' High School, it was resolved that the formation of trades unions should be encouraged.

The Amalgamated Brass Workers' Union has removed its employment office to 110 First avenue. The manager will be present Monday evenings.

The International Machinists' Union of America will hold its second annual convention in Philadelphia June 20. The branches which have sent delegations are: Boston, Chicago, Detroit, New York, Philadelphia, and St. Louis.

John Pfeifer is quoted as saying: "The stone for the Museum of Art building is expected to arrive to-day. We are going ahead, and will set that stone, strike or no strike."

THREE MEN CLAIM THE REWARD.

Each Declares He Was First to Discover Mrs. Peckinpah's Body.

Three persons now claim the $500 reward deposited with Inspector Steers by Mr. George R. Peckinpah, who discovered the body of his missing wife.

Mr. Peckinpah disappeared from his home at East Twenty-fifth street about a month ago, and his husband offered a reward of $1,000 for news of her, if she was living and $500 for her body if she was dead.

Last Monday morning Officer John A. Morrison, of the Kingsbridge Precinct, found the dead body in the Hudson River, near Riverside, N. Y., and he immediately put in his claim for the $500.

Nicholas Carlucci, a messenger for the American Express Company, and Charles Alphonse, brother of the ticket agent at the Algonquin depot, also made claims.

Mr. Carlucci tells the following story:

"The United Wood-Carvers' Association has been elected delegates to the Central Labor Federation. Members have resigned their posts in the various trades, and will stand by the cabinet-makers until they have gained eight hours."

The general contractors have notified the striking cabinet-makers to help settle the strike, willing to make individual contracts with them. The Busses Association still refuses to be bound by the cabinet-makers, although the latter belong to an open shop which has joined the Knights of Labor in their own and other branches of trade.

The officers of the Journeymen Barbers' Union, which includes the Barber-Surgeons' Vice-President, Mr. Bishop; Financial Secretary, H. German; Treasurer, Moses Wagnagarten and Alters; Trustees, Moses Wagnagarten and Alters; Trustee, Mr. Frank Katherer; Both were expelled from the Union.
